Ilinois Central Has Made an Important Line Addition.

ELABORATE SERVICE PUT ON

Ratiroad and Steamship Passengers Out of California are Free from Pestiferous Inspection.

Commercial Agent Rose says that on yesterday the Illinois Central read opened its new route to springfield and St. Louis, and put into effect an slaborate service between Chicago and the one hour and five minutes time is taken off the schedule of the Diamond special to St, Louis, and the route of this train, as well as of the Daylight special and all others, is now via Springfield and Litchfield, instead of Decatur, Pana and Litchfield and the Big Four tracks, as formerly. The change in time and route was made possible by the company's recent acquisition of the St. Louis, Peoria & Northern, and will give the road a first-class through route over its own tracks, which will reduce the distance to St, Louis by six miles and will bring Springfield on a through main line.

The daylight special has been newly equipped, having added to it two new features of radical interest, namely, a complete dining car, and a buffet library smoking car,

Grand Display of Falls.

Some "big Injuns" in the bleycle riding business will dump themselves into a road race to Lagoon on Friday next. The occasion is the visit of members of the Fourteenth ward to the flowergarden resort. Among those who have been entered in the race by their managers, backers, trainers, bottle-holders, etc., are Eugene Cannon, John Taylor otte, are Eugene Cannon, John Lawley Jim Campbell, Leslie Young, Quayle Cannon, Geo. J. Fox, Joe. Goss, Jesse Fox and Gus, Bellschweiler. There will be an observation train run at the time of the race, and the passengers thereon will be able to "observe" how neatly a fall from a bike may be taken. One of the boys was out practicing th other evening, and complained to th reporter this morning that he didn't mind falling off the wheel so much if the "darned thing" didn't climb all over him and kick him in the back of the neck every time. Some of the riders, however, have become proficient, and nise a grand display of falls on Big Season.

Excursion Agent Mann of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles says that patronage to the beach this year is immense and predicts that it will be the biggest season in this respect in the history of the resort. The Mastodon minstrels, a local organization of much merit, is the members are preparing big parades on the streets. They have some neat uniforms and will appear in all the glory of plug hat and brass They expect to draw a lot o people out to the bathers' Mecca, and there is not the least reason in the world to doubt that they will meet all of their expectations in this particular.

> Difficulty is Over Changing the Englneer's Specifications, Etc.

The board of public works and City Engineer Kelsey art at "outs" again. On Saturday evening the board held a meeting at which a communication from Mr. Kelsey was received and read. The engineer in his letter undertook to tell the board that it was not complying with the law in regard to changing the specifications, etc., and made certain suggestions which very much surprised the three members present, Faban, Clawson and Farnsworth.

It seems that some time ago Mr. Kelsey prepared plans and specifications, on which bids were to be solicited, for laying watermain extensions. The board hanged the specifications and returned the same to the engineer with instrutions that he make a new draft em-bodying the new suggestions, One of the changes provided that the material and work should be satisfactory to the board, and might be accepted by the

THE CITIZENS SHOULD ACT.

He Believes They Can Induce the Government to Buy the Lot Extending to Fourth South.

Postmaster Thomas, who has just returned from Washington, has an incresting suggestion to make regarding the Salt Lake public building.

It will be remembered that an appropriation of $75,000 was originally made with which to purchase a site The site, however, was presented by Walker Brothers for a consideration of $1. The lot on Main Street is at the corner of Market and just below the south line of it is a three story building. Mr. Thomas thinks that the citizens should get together and inaugurate a movement to induce the government to purchase all of the lot south of the present side to Fourth South, having a frontage of 126 feet. By going at the matter systematically and having the property condemned he believes it would be purchased for less than the amount of the site appropriation. This, he believes, would be a great benefit. The increased appropriation of $500,000 he believes will go through without a hitch or further unnecessary delay. secure the suitable approaches for a mit of three fronts instead of two the lot to the south should be secured.

The movement would result in much practical benefit too, as it would give the interior of the building much more light and facilitate the handling of

The horro-stricken men quickly called for the power to be shut off, and while the shafting was stopping. Dixon's body, mangled in a most dreadful man-ner, fell to the floor. Both feet had been literally ground off, and the legs were broken and mutilated.

The limp and unconscious body was taken to the office of Dr. Castleman, taken to the office of Dr. Castleman, the company physician, but nothing could be done, an without regaining consciousness, Dix died, about two hours after the accident.

Acting Corener Duniavey impaneled a jury, consisting of George Luft, P. H. Gohn and R. L. Conley, which returned verdict that deceased came to his eath by accidentally becoming entangled in a rope and shaft, and re-ceiving injuries which resulted in his eath, no one being to blame.

Dixon was 42 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children, a girl 15 years old, and a boy 5 years of age. He was a member of the order of Workmen, being a charter member of the Eureka lodge.
